- 1.3 These GPT apply upon acceptance without reserve of any contracting party's delivery, even in Monosuisse's awareness of conflicting or deviating delivery conditions of said contracting party. Monosuisse does not recognize any terms and conditions of the contracting party that contradict or deviate from these GPT, unless agreed otherwise in writing by Monosuisse.
- 1.4 For their validity, any contract and declaration having legal relevance by and between the contracting party and Monosuisse must be in writing. Amendments or additions to the contract, as well as its cancellation, must also be in writing.
- 1.5 Rights and obligations deriving herefrom, as well as those deriving from supply contracts executed based on these GPT, will not be transferable without the parties' mutual written consent.
- 1.6 If one or more provisions of these GPT should be invalid or contradict mandatory law, such fact shall not affect the validity of remaining provisions. In such case, the parties agree to replace invalid provisions with valid ones, which, according to their content, achieve same economic effects.
- 1.7 In the event of any necessary interpretation or any other controversy, the English version of these provisions prevails.

2 Offer

- 2.1 Contracting party will submit an offer based on Monosuisse's request. Such offer will be free of charge. In the offer, the contracting party shall comply with the descriptions and objectives of Monosuisse and, in case of deviations, shall expressly point them out. The contracting party has a duty of clarification.
- 2.2 Except otherwise agreed in writing, contracting party's offer will be binding thereto for 90 days.

- 3.1 Specifications, amounts, delivery dates and prices are part of the orders.

- 3.3 Monosuisse will only be bound to the contract if order confirmation shows no deviation from order. Deviations from the order shall be indicated by the contracting party on the order confirmation. Deviations shall only be binding for Monosuisse upon express written reconfirmation.
- 3.4 The scope of delivery includes everything required for accurate installation, operation and performance of product, regardless of whether mentioned and described in the specification to the order.

4. Prices, terms of delivery and transfer of risk

- 4.1 Contracting party's prices are deemed as fixed prices in the currency specified in the order. In principle, the contracting party undertakes to deliver products on a DDP basis in accordance with the currently applicable Incoterms. Any other terms of delivery must be agreed in writing by the parties.
- 4.2 The remuneration covers all services necessary for the proper performance of the contract . These are, specifically, delivery and assembly costs, personnel and material expenses, costs incurred in documenting and instructing, any expenses, packaging, shipping, insurance and unloading costs, eventual license and public fees and taxes (for example VAT, advanced disposal fees or customs duties).
- 4.3 Contracting party will be liable for damages suffered during shipping because of insufficient packaging.
- 4.4 Each shipment must be accompanied by a packing slip listing all order specific information. Partial and remainder deliveries must be declared as such in all shipping documents and invoices.

- 6.3 In the event of delayed delivery, the contracting party undertakes to pay 1% of the net purchase price, up to a maximum of 10%, as a contractual penalty for each commenced week of delay in delivery, irrespective of fault or proof of damage. Shortage of raw material and supplier and sub-supplier delays will not be deemed Force Majeure. Furthermore, Monosuisse is entitled to claim demonstrated damages suffered by the delay according to legal provisions.
